11.45a.m. Steven Bright 'Tarot: Your Personal Guide' Allowing the cards to be versatile is one of the things that many readers find difficult. While they may understand what the 3 of Swords can mean when referring to an existing or forthcoming situation, working out who the card could be if it depicted a person can be less easy to figure out. In my book 'Tarot: Your Personal Guide', I provide examples for both a situation and personality-type for all seventy-eight of the cards. Today I will show some examples about how the cards can be read with more flexibility and imagination.

1.45.p.m. Mike Medaglia - Liminal 11 How can the tarot sync up with the worlds increasing focus on mindfulness and self-care? This talk will explore using the tarot as a tool for self-reflection, personal growth and compassion. With a focus on The Luna Sol Tarot, a modern, positive, uplifting new tarot deck, we will explore the tarot's ability to bring comfort at a time of great change and uncertainty.

3.00p.m. Maya Sadarangani is a Celtic Wiccan Priestess, based in the USA. In 2018 she embarked on the first leg of her 'Witches Journey'. Witches Journey is a documentary project with an Oracle Deck at its centre. Through the visitation of numerous sacred sites around the British Isles, Maya draws inspiration for each of the cards within the deck. During her presentation Maya will show a short trailer for the documentary and discuss her reasons for wanting to develop an Oracle deck.
